

"Faith"

(Song No. 5 from the album "Fundanatural," by the Nick Holmes Band)
Music and lyrics (c) 2010 Nick Hewyn Holmes

Verse 1:

So you go walking from this room
Your senses boiling mad, concentrated, consumed
And stunned at what you saw
Because you went and walked through
Through that closed door - Through that closed - Through that closed door

Chorus:

If I had half, only half your faith
I would know, what you already know
If I had half, only half your faith
I would know, what you already know

Verse 2:

So you were the only one not to know
Now you're too embarrassed to stay and too embarrassed to go
And acting absurdly bravely
With your best brave face
Hoping against hope that some kind soul will take you from this place

Chorus:

If I had half, only half your faith
I would know, what you already know
If I had half, only half your faith
I would know, what you already know

Verse 3:

Events change people and you realise
That an old friend's been watching you with quiet, understanding eyes
And old friends become old flames
As they flirt
This flame will burn again and all because you showed that you can be hurt

Chorus:

If I had half, only half your faith
I would know, what you already know
If I had half, only half your faith
I would know, what you already know
